

Publishing Journal Articles Workshop

This workshop is for graduate students who want to publish in international English-language journals. We will discuss the various stages of the publication process: finding an appropriate journal, preparing your article for the selected journal, submitting your article, and dealing with reviewer comments.

The workshop focuses on publishing in humanities and social science journals (using examples from the fields of International Relations and History). But graduate students from all fields are welcome to join.

2025
Dec. 3 Wed
14:00 - 16:00

Building 10, Room 101

- Available for: Graduate students of UTokyo
 - Free participation
 - Language: English*
- *You can ask questions in Japanese.

Sign up here

You can register in advance until right before the workshop starts.
We also welcome participants who wish to join on the day without prior registration.

Facilitator:

Project Assistant Professor, Center for Academic Writing at Komaba

Kuhn Felix

